

an invitation ...

to you to be photographed as Eve.

I'm inviting women to be a part of a collection of images that shows the diversity of our cultural heritage in contemporary Australian society. The 'tie in' to Eve is that images will show an apple somewhere in the frame.

The intended use of the images is for display in small fragmented public exhibitions and a book publication to show all women photographed as part of this project; i.e. 'EVEvolution' - a collection of contemporary images of women' by jon green.

Currently I'm using a small temporary portrait studio I have at home to photograph subjects. However, I'm happy to photograph you in any location that may apply to the image you have in mind.

If you are interested in the project and would like to schedule a portrait session, please contact me on my mobile 0417 913 521.

Best wishes Jon
